You enter through double doors into a very impressive hallway with terracotta tiled floor. There is a living room and separate dining room with wood burning stove and both these rooms have access to a lovely and completely equipped kitchen with small mezzanine. On the ground floor there are two double bedrooms which are both en-suite and they have their own sitting area. Staircase to first floor where there is a large summer living room, glazed and covered terrace and a bedroom. If one wanted one could add a fourth bedroom quite easily. The swimming pool is private and is surrounded by lots of open terraces. With a guest apartment and outside kitchen the finca offers complete outdoor living in the long hot summers and it is perfect for visiting family and friends. The plot has many fruit trees and Almond trees along with its very own vineyard which is currently looked after by the local farmer.
